Trustee's Desk

- Dr. M. SUBRAHMANYAM

Dear Friends,

Exactly 14 years ago, Sparsh Hospice began as simple idea to extend palliative care to terminally ill; not only a place to alleviate pain but to extend a holistic care with dignity and kindness what every person deserves. What started with one patient 'Daisy' who walked in with her humble smile is now a movement, where we have touched lives of more than 12,500 patients and almost 50,000+ family members.

At Sparsh we do not count days left, we count memories created. The birthdays, wedding anniversaries, the family get together, having favourite food, going for a walk/temple and many others. These are not just an event - they are moments which the patient and family will relish forever.

As we step into our 15th year, we do with even greater energy and zeal to make such memories for another 12,500 beneficiaries. We are working towards a pain free centre where whoever goes , goes with no suffering. We are working towards sustainability and reaching new heights of social purpose.

We are expanding our ambition to advocate and create awareness in the community. We are also excited to inform that Sparsh Hospice is organising 33rd Annual International Conference of the Indian Association of Palliative Care in collaboration with Basavatarakam Indo American Cancer Hospital & Research Institute.

This journey has never been ours alone. It has been built by you—our donors, beneficiaries, beneficiaries' family, volunteers and well-wishers—who have stood with us, believed in our vision and made every breakthrough possible.

Enjoy reading our Quarterly Newsletter, the first newsletter of the year 2025! The best is yet to come.

Operations Head

Dear Well-wishers,

I am pleased to present Quarterly Report for Q4 (January to March 2025). As always, our focus remains on strengthening internal systems and external partnerships, guiding us steadily on the path to progress. A key highlights this quarter was the launch of "Sparsh Goes Green," which introduced four electric cars and three electric bikes to our home care fleet—a significant step toward sustainable and efficient care delivery. The initiative was inaugurated by Hon. IT Minister Mr. Sridhar Babu.

This quarter also marked the beginning of Sparsh admitting patients under the Aarogyasri scheme. We are proud to share that Dr. M. Subrahmanyam, our long-time trustee, received Rotary International's highest honour, the 'Service Above Self' award, presented by Hon'ble Governor Shri Jishnu Dev Varma. Sparsh celebrated World Cancer Day with meaningful activities and continued its commitment to enhancing care quality. Notably, we collaborated with the University of Leicester to strengthen our feedback system.

As we complete four years in our expanded hospice facility, we extend heartfelt thanks to our donors, partners, and especially our long-term supporters—SBI Foundation and Kotak Mahindra Prime Ltd. Over the past 14 years, Sparsh Hospice has touched the lives of more than 12,500 terminally ill patients and their families.

None of this would be possible without the dedication and compassion of our board members, Rotarians, and volunteers.

Medical Director's Desk

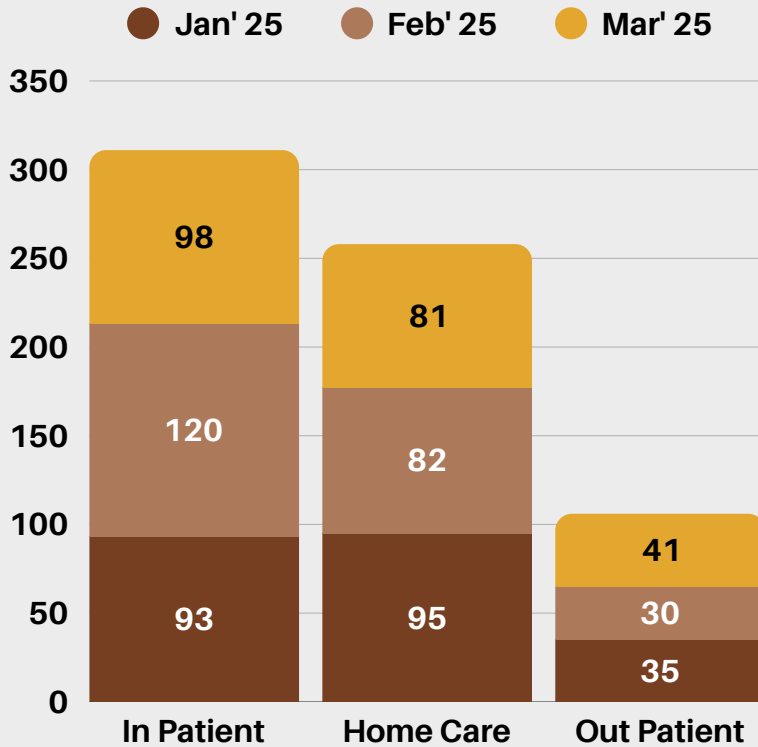

Dr Vivekanandam
Medical Director

As the Medical Director, I have the privilege of seeing the remarkable work done on the ground to extend comfort care. The past quarter was a crucial one. Palliative care is not just a medical discipline; it is an embodiment of care, kindness, and understanding. Our team exemplifies these values, going above and beyond to ensure that our patients experience the highest quality of life possible. As we move forward, I encourage medical fraternity to come forward and become a part of the legacy. My best wishes with IAPC chapter in Telangana for advocating on palliative care.

It is not possible by proper guidance. Sparsh's Medical Board plays a crucial role in ensuring care quality, defining care-related strategies, and upholding ethical standards and values. Our esteemed medical board includes Dr. P. Gopal (Chairperson), Dr. Rohini Reganti, Dr. M. Subrahmanyam, Dr. Phani Sree S, and Dr. Anita Patibandla.

With the utmost respect and gratitude!

Love, Loss, & Lament

It was my first day at the hospice when I met *Gita, a woman in her late 30s battling stage IV breast cancer. Seeing someone so young, ravaged by a disease I had only read about in textbooks, left me shaken. I had always known that breast cancer is one of the most common cancers in women, but here it was, stark and real before my eyes. Millions are diagnosed with it every year, yet 65% only learn of it at the last stage—a grim reality that played out in front of me. Behind Gita stood her husband, his face a mix of sorrow and helplessness. The psychologist shared her story—once a gold medalist in biotechnology, now battling a cruel illness.

Gita's husband was consumed by guilt over the delayed diagnosis. His pain deepened with fears that their young daughters, still unaware of their mother's illness, might carry the same genetic risk. They remained the fragile thread of hope in their broken world.

Recognizing the need for unity, the Sparsh Hospice team involved the whole family in counselling. remained the fragile thread of hope in their broken world. Recognizing the need for unity, the Sparsh Hospice team involved the whole family in counselling.

They gently helped them face Gita's condition, addressed the husband's guilt and fears, and prepared them to support one another through the difficult days ahead.

That day, after the session, something remarkable happened—the family took their first photo together. It was a simple yet powerful moment of love and strength. Gita's husband, through tears, whispered, "This is probably our last memory together," but counselling had given them the courage to face it as one.

It began with a simple conversation—Gita's husband, filled with love and regret, recalled their wedding and the anniversary they missed due to her illness. Knowing this might be their last, Sparsh Hospice stepped in to create a special memory. The team lovingly dressed Gita in her favorite saree, adorned her with flowers, and tied a Mangal sutra once again. Her husband, dressed as a groom, stood by her side as they celebrated their anniversary—one filled with love, dignity, and deep emotion.

It was a moment to remember—warmth, laughter, and tears filled the room. Gita's husband, once burdened by guilt, now radiated gratitude. He had called himself a failed husband, but that day, he stood tall, embracing the time they had left with love and grace.

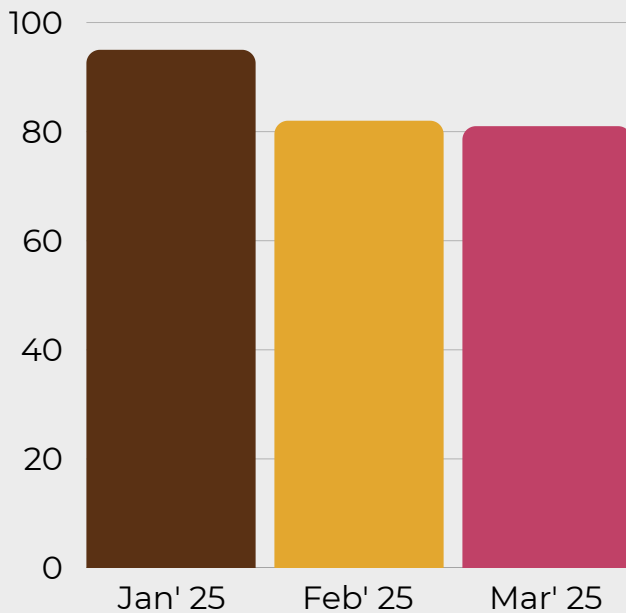

Sparsh Hospice gave them more than a celebration—they gave the gift of living fully, even in the shadow of goodbye. In compassionate hands, love found its way through the darkest clouds, turning sorrow into a cherished memory.

Home is where one feels connected and comfortable. During the process of dying, one always prefers to be surrounded by loved ones to bid adieu in peace. With the same philosophy Sparsh has started home-care services in 2016, and currently we are reaching at least 80 new patients on monthly basis through a fleet of 6 home-care vans. The home care project is being supported by SBI Foundation.

A Journey OF Trust

Mrs. Gupta, a 73-year-old naturopathy practitioner, was diagnosed with cancer in 2021 after discovering a lump in her left breast. Despite medical advice to undergo surgery and chemotherapy, she declined these treatments due to her strong belief in alternative medicine, including Ayurveda and Naturopathy. Unfortunately, these methods did not improve her condition, and over time, her pain became unbearable.

Originally from Delhi, Mrs. Gupta moved to Hyderabad to live with her daughter, seeking respite from the harsh weather in Delhi. Her daughter, also a naturopathy practitioner, is divorced and solely responsible for caring for her two school-going children and her ailing mother. This situation left her emotionally and physically exhausted. When she reached out to Sparsh Hospice for pain management, Mrs. Gupta was in severe distress, experiencing extreme pain, nausea, vomiting, weakness, and significant weight loss.

Initially, Mrs. Gupta was reluctant to use allopathic medicines due to her fear of side effects. During initial rapport-building visits, she hesitated to disclose her condition and rejected treatments such as wound care and medications beyond pain patches, even refusing to allow examination of her wounds. However, the Sparsh Hospice team demonstrated unwavering patience and compassion, consistently visiting her home, providing counseling, and working to build trust with both Mrs. Gupta and her daughter. They respected her beliefs while gently explaining the benefits of palliative care.

The team started her pain management with a non-opioid transdermal patch, which provided temporary relief. As her pain increased, stronger medications became necessary. Despite her initial reservations, Mrs. Gupta eventually accepted oral morphine, which brought her significant relief and peace of mind. Today, Mrs. Gupta is happier and places her full trust in the Sparsh team. She now actively reaches out for pain management, wound dressing, and other treatments, demonstrating the profound impact of compassionate, patient-centered care.

Out-patient (OP) consultations can often be a neglected area in palliative care. Sparsh Hospice is committed to provide high-quality care to our service-users who choose to come in periodically for pain management, wound dressings, counselling, and to share a sense of community at the hospice.

Having the extra layer of support can make a big difference to the quality of life. Expert pain management and telephonic medical advice can help to avoid those unwanted trips to hospitals. Currently we extend the services with 3 OP Clinics and they are at different locations:

- a. Sparsh Hospice, Hyderabad
- b. Indur Cancer Centre, Nizamabad
- c. CAIMS, Karimnagar

Awareness

In India there is very little awareness about palliative and end-of life care which is complicated by the perception that Hospice care is often associated with giving up. Therefore, it is the need of the hour to spread extensive awareness about palliative care amongst the community including doctors, healthcare professionals and other stakeholders. Concept of Palliative care is 3 decades old, since then hospice and palliative care services have been developed through the efforts of committed individuals and volunteers. But now it is time to come together and work on its integration into the national level policies to reach each nooks and corners of the country.
